Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Specification

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract of the disclosure does not commence on a separate sheet in accordance with 37 CFR 1.52(b)(4). A new abstract of the disclosure is required and must be presented on a separate sheet, apart from any other text.

Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Objections

3. Claims 4-12 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim should refer to other claims in the alternative only, and not depend from any other multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Deng (USPN 6,076,720).

In reference to claims 1 and 3, Deng discloses a stapler comprising: two half-bodies (122) defining a main body which includes a seat (12) for a row of staples (40, 42) which are urged by a pusher (16, 17) toward an ejection head, wherein a striker (112) can run in a direction substantially perpendicular to the feed direction of the row of staples (40, 42) in the seat (12), characterized in that a mobile plate (30) having a notch (322) is mechanically connected to a slider (24) which protrudes (248) outside the main body so that by moving the slider (24) the mobile plate (30) can slide parallel to the feed direction in the main body between the ejection head and the striker (112; figures 3 & 5).

6. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nakamura (USPN 5,497,931)

Regarding claims 1-3, Nakamura discloses a stapler comprising: a main body (14, 52, 53) having a vertical axis of symmetry that defines a first and second half of the main body, the body including a seat (100) for a row of staples (A) which are urged by a pusher (119) toward an ejection head (51), wherein a striker (32) can run in a direction substantially perpendicular to the feed direction of the row of staples (A) in the seat (100); and a mobile plate (67) having a hole (69) that permits mechanical connection by a pin (24) via a corresponding hole (56) in a slider (54) which protrudes (248) outside the main body (14, 52, 53) so that by moving the slider (54) the mobile plate (67) can slide parallel to the feed direction in the main body (14, 52, 53) between the ejection head and the striker (32), wherein the pin (24) also crosses through the main body (figure 2).

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Refer to attachment for notice of references cited and recommended for consideration based on their disclosure of limitations related to the claimed invention.
